VIRTUAL PARENTING THE NEXT GENERATION

The Tobacco Use Prevention Education program is excited to bring Ryan Tillman to present Parenting the Next Generation: Navigating the Landscape for Generation Z. Ryan will delve into the unique challenges and opportunities that come with raising Generation Z. A generation deeply intertwined with technology and facing distinct societal pressures. Join us as we tackle three crucial aspects: social media, drug use and mental health.

This virtual workshop will provide you with a deeper understanding, practical tools and the confidence to foster health growth, resilience and connection in this generation of youth.
